DID YOU KNOW...

qathet School District serves over 300 meals daily, ensuring that all students have access to nutritious food at school!

With support from the province's Feeding Futures funding, food access is provided at 9 school sites through 11 programs. Additional financial contributions from the Powell River Firefighter's Association and the Breakfast Club of Canada, along with food donations from community partners such as Pacific Point, help keep these initiatives going.

The most popular distributed food items include granola bars, fruit, and cheese. Soup is served daily at 4 schools, while all schools offer lunch programs. These programs are open-access, meaning any student who wants food can receive it. School food programs not only provide nutritious meals but also help strengthen connections with peers and school staff, and alleviate financial and time pressures for families.

Research shows that well-nourished students are more likely to attend school regularly, have improved academic outcomes, and experience improved physical and mental health. By ensuring access to nutritious foods, school food programs help students stay focused, engaged, and ready to learn and play.

Stay tuned for something exciting, delicious, and nutritious happening tomorrow!

There are two programs that we use at school with our students that help teach them skills and strategies in many social situations: Heart Mind & Well-Being Framework and WITS. These programs have helped us create a common language at school that our students are getting very familiar with. We have been very happy with the positive impact it has been having. Please look at the following resources. Over Spring break, you may even want to talk to your children about the programs or try some of the phrases and terms at home!

If you have any questions, please contact us at school.

Heart-Mind Well-Being

We have exciting news to announce when we return after Spring Break about a special project that is taking shape at Edgehill!
